

Lava Pride recognizes “Alpaca Inn”

Owned & operated by Londa & Jody Palmer who have made outstanding improvements to their property providing a quality lodging experience for visitors to Lava. Lava Pride is looking for businesses who put a little extra effort in the appearance and cleanliness of the interior and exterior of their place of business. Taking pride in Lava is what it's all about.

Please join us on September 17, 2008 at 7 PM for our initial community forum at the Lava Community Building. We are a group who love Lava, depend on Lava for our livelihood and well-being, and think that if we get together we can make some changes that will enhance our town. It will only work if you come with your perceptions and suggestions and we develop a community direction towards change. The City Council & Mayor are with us. So bring your voice to the first official Lava Pride meeting. Please make that night special by joining us. Your voice is important!
